SBA 504 LOAN FEES DISCLOSURE
(Texas)

Attention: You will have two permanent loans: (1) the Bank/Lender loan and (2) the SBA 504 loan. This disclosure statement is being provided to you (the borrower) as a “good faith estimate” of fees and rates associated with closing your SBA 504 loan. These fees are separate from any fees you pay to the participating bank/lender.

1. Fees To Be Paid By Borrower At the SBA Closing:

You will have the following closing costs and are expected to pay these costs on the date of closing.

- a. Attorney’s Fees/Document Preparation/ Miscellaneous Closing Costs: $3,500

Note: You will pay this cost “up front” at the closing table. In approximately 45-60 days after closing, these costs will be repaid to you from your loan funds.

- b. Title Insurance: Total cost of this insurance will vary. This cost is set by Texas State Law and is based on the size of your loan. As a guideline, the following list shows current policy premiums for 2006, before any applicable discounts or endorsements:

504 Loan Amount	Estimated Title Premium
$ 100,000	$ 871
$ 250,000	$ 1,699
$ 500,000	$ 3,079
$ 750,000	$ 4,703
$ 1,000,000	$ 5,839
$ 1,500,000	$ 8,918

Note: You will pay this cost “up front” at the closing table. Title Insurance costs will not be repaid to you. (Title Insurance is not required for equipment-only loans.)

2. Financed Fees: You do not need to pay certain fees “up front.” The following items are paid from your loan proceeds at funding: Funding Fee, CDC Processing Fee, and the SBA Underwriter’s Fee.
3. Effective Interest Rate: The interest rate is not set at the time of closing. Your “fixed” effective interest rate will be “locked-in” the week prior to the loan’s SBA funding date.
4. Survey: All 504 real estate loans require “as built” surveys. In most cases, we will get a copy from the Bank/Lender. If a copy is unavailable from the Bank/Lender, you are responsible for the cost of a new survey.

I have read and I acknowledge the above Loan Disclosures and agree to these terms.
